TIP

With the temperatures heating up, it might seem only natural to leave your car windows or convertible top down, but doing so only makes it that much easier for thieves to steal your valuables—parking passes included! Parking spaces are hard to come by, particularly during peak season, making your guest parking pass a hot commodity. Don't let your property become an easy target; keep windows up and doors locked—even if you're only going to be out of your car for a short time.
