CERT (Community Emergency Response Team) is a 20-hour FEMA course that trains volunteers on how to respond safely, responsibly, and effectively in the event of a disaster.

Following a major disaster, police, fire and medical personnel may not be able to fully meet the demand. People will have to rely on each other to meet immediate life saving and life sustaining needs. This is where CERT volunteers come in.

- Class #1 (Sept. 13): Disaster Preparedness
- Class #2 (Sept. 15): Disaster Fire Suppression
- Class #3 (Sept. 20): Disaster Medical Ops 1
- Class #4 (Sept. 22) Disaster Medical Ops 2
- Class #5 (Sept. 27): Light Search & Rescue, Terrorism
- Class #6 (Sept 29): Psychology, CERT Organization
- Class #7 (Oct. 4): Disaster Simulation Exercise
